

About the Staff:

The Law Camp is directed by Attorney Deria Hayes, Interim Director of NCCU School of Law's Pro Bono Program. Attorney Hayes is a NCCU Law graduate ('98) and a former Assistant Clinical Professor of Law who supervised the Domestic Violence Clinic and also taught Trial Practice and Appellate Advocacy. Attorney Hayes also serves as the Program Coordinator for the NCCU School of Law's Virtual Justice Project. Distinguished NCCU Law students will serve as Law Camp Counselors and assist with the daily Law Camp activities.

About the Law School:

Since its creation in 1939, the NCCU School of Law has been a vital and progressive force in the Southeast. Founded as a school for African Americans, the School of Law today consists of an integrated student body and is one of the most diverse in the United States. Throughout the Law School's history, its graduates have achieved acclaim as attorneys, judges, legislators and business leaders. The School of Law inaugurated an evening program in January 1981. The School of Law is fully accredited by the North Carolina State Bar Council and by the American Bar Association.
