

NC Central UNIVERSITY

School of Law

Overview

Established in 1939, North Carolina Central University's School of Law offers two programs leading to the Juris Doctor degree: a full-time day program and a part-time evening program. The School of Law provides a high quality, personalized, practice-oriented and affordable legal education to students from diverse backgrounds. We remain focused on training advocates who address issues of civil rights, social justice, and are tied to their respective communities.
