FINANCIAL AID SUMMARY SHEET

Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) – for federal loans ONLY

North Carolina Central University is an institutional participant in the Federal Direct Student Loan Program. You may apply for federal loans to defray the expense of tuition and fees. The University's Office of Scholarships and Student Aid must have a current FAFSA in order to process your federal direct student loans and other University financial aid including law school scholarships and grants. The FAFSA is available here. The FAFSA school code for North Carolina Central University is 002950. The law school uses the University's school. There is not a separate school code for the law school.

Office of Scholarships and Student Aid

The University Office of Scholarships and Student Aid (OSSA) receives the FAFSA application and is responsible for all matters related to the processing of student loans. OSSA may be contacted by phone at 919-530-6180 or by email at ssa@nccu.edu. You may also find up-to-date financial aid information including loan and other financial aid disbursement dates on the OSSA website at www.nccu.edu/sssa. The Office of Scholarships and Student Aid is located in Suite 106 of the Student Services Building and has the following office hours: Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

For financial assistance questions, you may also contact the law school's director of financial assistance, Augustus Forte by email at aforte3@nccu.edu or by phone at 919-530-7440.
